

Court Reveals Kidnap Horrors

Horrors of captivity for 34 hours in the hands of kidnappers will be recounted by Mrs. Neil Donnelly, top picture, who is head of a $100,000 ransom City, Me. dress concern. When the trial of alleged abductors started in that city today. Mrs. Donnelly was kidnapped from the driveway of her home by her chauffeur, driven to a lonely farm-house outside of the city and held for $15,000 ransom. She says the kidnappers, after threatening to kill her, became afraid and took her back to the city, where she was freed. Two of the alleged kidnappers who will stand trial are shown in the lower right is William Lacy Browning, farmer, and left is Paul Scheidt, dairyman.

Germans Win Election
MEMEL, Memelland, May 5.—The German parties won yesterday's hotly contested elections in this little country, where racial controversies have wide ramifications. Almost complete returns today showed the Germans had polled a tremendous majority over the Lithuanians, who sought strenuously to capture control.

BETTER MAROON THEM

Just born in United Kingdom, British Columbia's Sons of Ireland Freedom may have to be accommodated in a corral, which the Dominion Government is being asked to provide.

Why get simply matters and maroon the sons of one of the innumerable islands along the B.C. coast? There they could go native without disturbing neighbors or costing the country anything for guards, while they provide them all the police would have to do is surround
the corral and keep the spectators away.

The island should happen to sink, that would be an unfortunate event, and the advantage from the standpoint of a long-suffering and Dook-weary public.

TIME TO PONDER

The supreme court in London has declined to listen to Mr. Capone's complaint that he did not get a fair trial or that by his overweight or judicial misbehavior he has been wrongly convicted of extortion and that he is entitled to a new trial.

That presumably ends the matter, and settles it that Capone is a bad man, a citizen is to spend the next decade in jail. Not because he was convicted by a jury in a court of law, but because he was convicted by a jury in a court of law.

Perhaps while "AL" ponders the unfairness of things in distance via the lawyers will ponder his transgression. He will ponder the outward money came from. Since they have proved that he got it somewhere, it should not be impossible to discover where he got it.
That is assuming the authorities be as much concerned in detecting crime as they are in detecting tax-dodging.

THE REFORM HANGS FIRE

When the Beaumont scandal was explored in parliament a year ago there were rumors from Ottawa, a good deal more direct and definite than outside sources had heard, that the Government would cause the election law to be drastically amended, in such way as to give publicity to campaign fund contributions.

It was clearly foreseen that hereafter
anyone who made a contribution to the funds of any party would be required to publish the fact, stating how much he had contributed.
It was given. The mystery that now surrounds the war chests was to be swept away. Contributions were to be openly received and openly announced. Wherefore there would be no temptation to contribute as an investment in favors to come, and no stigma attached to any one who gave or to any party that accepted.

That of course is the way campaign funds should be handled. But it looks as though some one has thrown a monkey wrench into the plans to bring about that salutary change in procedure. The projected Government bill by which the reform was to come about has not been brought down. And a private bill to the same effect has been withdrawn, under circumstances which do not indicate Government action in the matter.

Senator McNeil has told us that Premier Bennett resorted to violent language to prevent him accepting a contribution from Beeves on the eve of last election. Perhaps the Senator has exaggerated the score when he says there were not any funds for the next election if contributions have to be handled in daylight.

In any event the Senator is free to go on collecting against the day of need, knowing that there is nothing in the law, and no amendment of the law, which would make it possible for him to say where he is getting the money.

WHAT ABOUT OVER CAPITALIZATION?

Premier Bennett has announced a conference between federal and provincial representatives, to study amendments to the law which will prevent fraud and manipulation in the floating and selling of stock.

All well and good so far as it goes, but does not sound like going far enough to meet the situation. What is also required is machinery that will prevent the capitalization of companies out of all proportion to their assets, needs and prospects. This is done and has been done not through fraud or illegal manipulation, but with full understanding of the law and the authorities. And the investing public have in recent years suffered far more through legal over-capitalization than they have through downright fraud.

Turner Valley is a case in point. The crash of 1929 has had no more spectacular developments in Canada than the prosecution of Turner Valley. The sale of the Turner Valley oil stock, which has been done to them may have been entirely deceptive, and was certainly impressive, but it profited investors nothing.

The money that was lost in Turner Valley
was not lost through fraudulent transactions, but through operations which were strictly legal and which were carried out in question in the courts. Companies organized there were permitted to capitalize and sell stock to a hundred or a thousand times the amount that was reasonable, and the property was sold.
When the slump came the prospect simply faded out that the stock-holders could or can get any return on the vast number of shares
they hold.

It is urgent that fraud be prevented. But it is also due the investing public that they be given some reasonable measure of protection against the capitalization of enterprises
of all relation to their probable earning-power.

BASEBALL NEWS FROM THE WESTERN TEST

—BILL LEWIS—

Final series of the baseball season, which brings together Harry Wilson's famous Chicago Cubs and the Grads, also is a real test for the fans. It may be that memories are short, but it is a cliché that no one's memory is so short that he fails to remember what happened when these two teams clashed just two years ago.

If ever there was a disappointed man, it was Harry Wilson as he walked out of the arena on the last night of the season. "I'll be back again, and we'll lick you yet," he said to his partner, who, after a long time, told him that Harry was being groomed by his team for this coming season.

Far be it from me to suggest that the Grads will lose, but if they really have to lose, there is no one I know of that I would sooner see take the Underwood International trophy home with him than Harry Wilson. He is a real sport and his team can always be depended upon to give the Grads a real argument.

The name of Wilson's new team—the Red Devils—sounds like the stuff of legend. It would be just as surprising to see him come along and make things warm for the Grads as it would be to see him come along and make things warm for the Grads.

Senior Amateur Baseball League teams are trying to get in their daily workouts these days, but there always appears to be some obstacle causing their plans to go haywire. And the inability to secure a suitable ball yard for practice is the one big obstacle to the league. Everything else is one thing or another, but the lack of a suitable ball yard is the one thing that is the biggest obstacle I can think of in the way of running the league.

Diamond Park, where the senior league is to play their games this coming season, is the most natural place to practice. But there's one thing that keeps them from going to the park for work-out. And that is the fact that the park is not allowed in the park for work-out.

There are a number of other ball fields around the city, but practically all of them are taken up by the various football teams. And they're not good for baseball, anyway.

So it is to be hoped that the city of the senior league will rent a bit and let the ball club get in time workouts and be ready for the fast-approaching season.

BRAVES OPEN CAMPAIGN TO RETAIN LEAD

St. Louis Cards Move Into First Division by Win

By GAYLE TALBOT

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—Having won their spurs in the East, the St. Louis Cardinals moved into the National League today for a whirlwind two-week campaign. They will prove pretty definitely whether they can "take it" in the West.

In that time the current leaders will meet all four western managers. They will have to win four games to hold their own in such company. Some body will have to make their first serious effort.

At this point the Cardinals should be in the first division with their second straight win over Cincinnati. The Cardinals should be in the first division with their second straight win over Cincinnati.

Brooklyn and New York kept the day traveling west, borne up by the current leaders. They scarcely can do worse where they will probably visit up the coast. They're not good for baseball, anyway.

John Sime's home run in the seventh inning with two aboard secured the victory for the Cardinals. They made their first serious effort.

HONESTY IN SPORT: GRADS AS EXAMPLE

By BILL LEWIS

Human nature is essentially honest. If this were not a fact the business of the world could never be carried on.

Since it is a fact and no one in his right senses doubts it — it is only reasonable to credit the same honesty of purpose to those of us who happen to be engaged in sport, whether as promoters, players or spectators.

It is not to be denied that there has never been a "crooked" promoter, a player who was not susceptible to the magic of a dollar, or a referee who was not susceptible to the magic of a dollar.

There are no crooked referees, no crooked players, no crooked promoters. There are no crooked referees, no crooked players, no crooked promoters.

RIVERDALE TO OPPOSE C.N.R. IN FIRST GAME

St. Albert Team is Dropped and Old Timers Take Franchise Over

The bid will be tried off the Big Four Baseball League on Monday night, May 16. The only chance Riverdale has to win is by defeating the C.N.R. team.

Four teams comprise the circuit, of whom all but one were in the league last year. The only change resulted in the St. Albert club passing from the league. The St. Albert franchise was taken over by the Old Timers Association. This club will be known as the Old Timers Club and will be under the management of Harry Ross.

Orioles, Going at Great Pace, Pass Buffalo Yesterday

NEW YORK, May 5.—Baltimore Orioles appear in a fair way to overshadow all the sensational early season work of Buffalo Bisons, whom they have supplanted in second place in the International league.

Buffalo rose to the top by winning 10 of its first 13 games but has slumped back just as rapidly in the past week by losing five out of six. The Orioles have slugged their way up to a terrific pace, winning eight out of their last 10 games. The victory yesterday displaced Buffalo from second place in the standings by trouncing the Bisons for the second straight game, 10 to 6.

Montreal Royals and Jersey City Skeeters, who also have been playing some amazing ball in the past few days, turned in victories yesterday. Jersey City won in the second of a double header against Rochester and won 11 to 0.

ERRORS SPOIL SHUTOUT WIN

But Clint Brown Hurls Indians to Victory

CLEVELAND, May 5.—Robbed of a shutout victory by Johnny Burns' two successive fumbles at second base, Clint Brown overpowered and held St. Louis to six hits while the Indians were pounding out 10 singles for an 8-3 win Wednesday. The game closed the Indian western tour and they go to Philadelphia today to open against the Athletics with a record of 10 victories in their last 11 games. The Indians had a field day against Ben Gray and Wally Hubert. Montague collected a perfect score at bat, getting two hits and a walk, starting a squeeze play and sending three runs across. Willie Kamm hit his third out of five and scored four times, while Mott continued his hitting streak by getting three out of four and scoring twice.

Gets Here Friday For Tiger Tiff

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Disastrous pre-derby training campaigns of three leading eligibles have resulted in Mr. L. G. Kaufman's Tiger on becoming almost a standard favorite to capture the 26th Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The latest Derby nominee overtaken by influenza is T. M. Cassidy's Universe, which was slightly lame today after wrenching a joint in his left foreleg in a workout Tuesday. University, winner of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, is secondary favorite to this on in the Future Book odds.

H. N. G. Soudard, veterinarian, said there was a "good possibility" Universe could start in the Derby, but the railroads were shaking their heads gloomily.

The Shandon Farm's Burning Blase, principal horse of the West, was crippled while racing at the Downs Saturday, and Top Flight, G. B. Whitley's leading juvenile of last year, was withdrawn from the Derby after running fourth in the Wood Memorial.

Nick On, though beaten in his only start of the year, is a favorite on the basis of his two-year-old record of 877,200, as is result of his demonstrating top form in workouts at the Downs.

Burning Blaze Out Of Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Burning Blase, a leading Kentucky Derby contender, was badly injured during the recent running of the Seelbach Hotel Purse, when he was, and is definitely out of the Derby, May 7. The Shandon Farm stable was caught in a shuffler soon after the start and a tendon in his right hind leg was nearly severed. He continued to win the six and one-half-furlong race, however, and went on to work out a mile and an eighth in 1:27.5, his jockey, Bill Garner, not knowing he was injured.

41 CARS ENTER IN SPEED RACE

Indianapolis Attracts Bunch Of Drivers

INDIANAPOLIS, May 5.—Entries of forty-one cars, including those to be driven by three former winners, Louis Schneider, Billy Arnold and Louis Meyer, were announced today for the annual 200-mile automobile race here May 30.

Between thirty and forty new entries are expected to try for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway main event before the deadline at midnight Monday.

Qualifying speed for this year's race has been boosted from 70 miles an hour to 100 miles, and the entry fee has been doubled. Despite the fact that the Indianapolis race is the largest entry in the history of the race, it is expected. Only forty cars will be permitted to start.

Among the entries announced today are cars to be driven by Juan A. Gaudino, a South American champion, and a group of former American winners—Russell Snowberger, Speed Gardner, Leon Duval, Shorty Gaudin, Slim Whitcomb, Deacon Dix and Phil Shafer.

Included among the younger drivers is Bob Carey, Ohio pilot, who set a number of world records for a mile track on the West Coast a few weeks ago.

BIG ADVANCEMENT WIN OLYMPIC GAMES SINCE INCEPTION

Many Changes Seen in Games Since Modern Revival in 1896—Bulletin Prepares Series of Olympic Articles

Realizing that an increasing interest will be taken during the coming summer in Track and Field sports, due to the Olympic Games being held in the Hager Leaf Gardens on May 12 and 13, the Bulletin prepares a series of articles relating to the Olympic Games and methods of training for different events. These articles will include historical data relating to the games and outline methods of training for particular events. One article deals with track athletes for boys which should be very helpful to all youth athletes. Other articles handle the names of some of the leading athletes, both boys and girls, together with brief comments regarding the performances they have made.

The Olympic Games, which now represent the highest form of amateur athletic sport throughout the world, can trace their origin to the great festivals of the Greeks, which were held at Olympia every four years. At first the athletic contests in connection with these annual celebrations occupied a single day but in later times at least two were needed to complete the sports. The exact origin of the games is unknown but legend attributes their foundation to Hercules, who was worshipped with special honor as a hero and Olympian.

EVENTS IN EARLY GREEK GAMES
The contests at first, consisted chiefly of foot-racing, later wrestling and boxing, and chariot racing. The prize was a wreath of olive leaves. The spectators at these ancient Olympic games included most of the citizens of Greece and some dignitaries. The competitors were only one year of age and the contests were held in the open air. The first day of the festival was given over to sacrifices. Also, on the first day, officials and judges solemnly swore to judge fairly and to maintain the sanctity of the games.

It is interesting to note that a steeper version of the modern Olympic Games was held in the Hager Leaf Gardens on May 12 and 13, 1932.

After the preliminary exercises were completed, the track and field events were held. The modern Olympic games were held in the Hager Leaf Gardens on May 12 and 13, 1932.

The importance and interest in the game declined in 294 A.D. when the emperor Theodosius issued a decree forbidding the games. The modern Olympic games were revived in 1896 by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a Frenchman, who was a member of the French Olympic committee.

The modern Olympic games were revived in 1896 by Baron Pierre de Coubertin, a Frenchman, who was a member of the French Olympic committee. The games were held in Athens, Greece, in 1896.

One of the primary tasks of the National Olympic Association is to raise funds by means of which the games can be carried on. In many cases government grants have been obtained. It is the duty of the National Association to keep the public opinion in support of amateur athletics. Each country also has its own Olympic committee, which is charged with the responsibility of increasing the interest in amateur sports in their particular country. It also selects the best representatives in the various lines of sports and arranges the financing of the team to the place where the games are held.

While some objections have been raised to international amateur sports, the fact remains that the games have been beneficial in creating a better feeling throughout the world. Also, there has been a development of similar ideals of fair play and sportsmanship throughout the athletic world and this has tended to bind nations closer together.

Jim Thompson Represents Province at Olympic Trial Meet

CALGARY, May 5.—Rene to Toronto where he will be one of the Alberta representatives in the Olympic boxing trials to be staged at the Hager Leaf Gardens on May 12 and 13, Jimmy Thompson, of Calgary, provincial amateur lightweight champion, left here Wednesday for the C.P.R. A large number of Thomsens friends conveyed him to the depot with him the best of luck.

Alma Wilson, boxing instructor of the Y.M.C.A., who will second Thompson in the trials, will leave for the Queen City on Friday.

Thompson is in splendid condition, and it is believed by his numerous admirers that he stands a good chance of capturing the Canadian lightweight championship and qualifying to compete in the Olympic games to be held in Los Angeles in August.

In winning the city championship Thompson defeated Jimmy Holmes. He won with apparent ease, flooring Holmes three times in the final round.

To qualify for the Olympic trials, Thompson must defeat Pat Renshaw, of Edmonton, and knocked out Schofield of Lethbridge, in the provincial championship tournament held at Calgary.

It was understood that Holmes has also made entry for the trials in Toronto. He is a former champion of the W. S. Pollard, Edmonton, and was slated for the trip to Toronto in the contest against the Canadian Blackmore, Carlisle. E. Van Velsor, of Calgary, is also expected to compete in the wrestling trials.

"SELL OUT"

The Bulletin's Daily Short Story From Real Life
By ALBERT A. OSTROW

AS Kate stepped from the elevator into the bustling lobby, Mike Donovan, notorious race track plunger, moved to meet her. Mike's smile was as good as a seal, his eyes, his hair, his teeth, his whole being, was all for her. "How do you do it, Kate? You don't look a day over 20."

"Mike, I'm married," Mike Donovan, but I might eat breakfast with you. Come in."
